ACADEMIC CUSTOMS AND DRESS

The origins of many customs of the academic world are to be traced to the Middle Ages, particularly the eleventh and twelfth centuries when the first European universities – Bologna, Paris, and Oxford — were founded.

In their original organization, the universities were like medieval corporations or guilds. In fact the word “universitas” originally referred to any kind of corporation. The students at the universities were equated to guild apprentices, and so the completion of the apprenticeship was celebrated by a “commencement” marking the beginning of their careers.

In the twelfth century, everyone wore gowns. The social and economic status of an individual was shown by the extra features, such as fur trimming, on the gowns. Cloaks with hoods were worn over gowns for protection in bad weather. Degrees began to be awarded in the thirteenth century, and different styles of gowns and different colors came to represent the various degrees and disciplines.

Over the centuries the styles of dress changed, and by the seventeenth century, the wearing of gowns by men had virtually ceased. But the universities, particularly those in Britain, continued to be conservative and strict in the manner of academic customs and dress. At Oxford, for instance, candidates for master's degrees had to swear that they owned a gown and would always wear it at the proper times.

The first American universities were founded on English models. However, the wearing of academic dress was not universal and ceased during the Civil War. The custom was revived in the late nineteenth century, and in 1895 an academic custom code was adopted which, with modifications, is still used.

Most American universities have the standard black gown with the hood serving to distinguish the individual institution. Some American and European universities have adopted or preserved more distinctive gowns. There are three styles of gowns, distinguished mainly by the sleeves; the bachelor's gown, with long, pointed sleeves; the master's, with a squared sleeve, cut so the forearm is free; the doctor's, with bell-shaped sleeves with three velvet bands.

The hood is the really distinguishing feature of modern gowns, indicating the degree (the width of the edging band), the discipline (the color of the band) and the college or university (the colors of the lining). Today's graduates have hoods edged in white (B.A., M.A.L.S.) gold (B.S., B.L.S.), or drab (B.P.S.). Many faculty members will have blue edging indicating the Ph.D. degree. The faculty will be wearing hoods representing many distinguished institutions of higher education, e.g., orange and maroon for Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, maroon and white for the University of Chicago, red and black for Rutgers University, and navy blue and orange for the University of Virginia.

ACADEMIC HONORS AND SPECIAL AWARDS

Academic achievement is recognized at Commencement through a variety of honors and awards. Other awards were presented at the Convocation ceremony held on Friday, May 11. In addition, most academic departments sponsor chapters of honor societies which recognize student achievement in specific disciplines.

ACADEMIC DISTINCTION

The college recognizes the academic achievement of graduating students through the awards of Summa Cum Laude, Magna Cum Laude, Cum Laude, With Highest Distinction, and With Distinction. Students who have earned at least 60 graded credits in residence may qualify for the first three of these awards with the following grade point averages.

Summa Cum Laude	3.75 or higher
Magna Cum Laude	3.50-3.74
Cum Laude	3.25-3.49

With Highest Distinction and With Distinction are awarded to graduating seniors who have earned 30 to 59 graded credits in residence with the following grade point averages.

With Highest Distinction	3.75 or higher
With Distinction	3.30-3.74

DEPARTMENTAL HONORS

Students may earn graduation with honors in their major subjects. Each department establishes its own requirements for honors projects or theses. All departments require that a student intending to undertake an honors project have a specified minimum grade point average in the major subject and a minimum grade point average for all work taken at Mary Washington College.

SPECIAL AWARDS

The names of this year's award-winners are kept confidential until they are announced at the Commencement ceremony.

Student _____

COLGATE W. DARDEN, JR. AWARD

This award was established in 1960 to honor Colgate W. Darden, Jr., president of the University of Virginia from 1947 to 1959. It consists of a medal designed by Gaetano Cecere, formerly of the Department of Art, and a cash sum. It is awarded to the senior having the highest cumulative grade point average. To be eligible for the Darden Award, a student must have earned at least 94 hours on which quality points may be computed.

Faculty _____

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OUTSTANDING YOUNG FACULTY MEMBER AWARD.

This award recognizes an outstanding young member of our faculty, one who has been at the college from two to five years. Started in 1989, recent recipients (and their current faculty ranks) include:

- 1997 Mehdi Aminrazavi
Associate Professor of Philosophy and Religion
- 1998 W. Gardner Campbell
Associate Professor of English
- 1999 Christine A. McBride
Assistant Professor of Psychology
- 2000 Kelli M. Slunt
Assistant Professor of Chemistry

MARY W. PINSCHMIDT AWARD. This award was established in 1999 in honor of Professor Mary W. Pinschmidt who, throughout her academic career, served as a role model and practitioner of exceptional liberal arts teaching and was a tireless contributor of service to her colleagues, her students, and the institution at large. The recipient of this award is selected by graduating seniors as the professor they "are most likely to remember as the one who had the greatest impact on (their) lives."

- 1999 Stephen J. Farnsworth
Assistant Professor of Political Science
- 2000 Werner Wieland
Professor of Biological Sciences

GRELLET C. SIMPSON AWARD. This award, made possible by an anonymous donor, is presented each year at graduation to a faculty member in recognition of excellence in undergraduate teaching. Started in 1972, recent recipients (and their current faculty ranks) include:

- | | |
|------|----------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1997 | J. Christopher Bill
Professor of Psychology |
| 1998 | Bulent I. Atalay
Professor of Physics |
| 1999 | Steven A. Greenlaw
Associate Professor of Economics |
| 2000 | J. William Kemp, Jr.
Professor of English, Linguistics and Speech |

FACULTY EMERITUS

Faculty members who have served Mary Washington College for at least 15 years and who have attained the rank of professor or associate professor are eligible upon retirement to be considered for emeritus status. This honor, by action of the Board of Visitors, is bestowed this year upon six distinguished members of the faculty.

Marshall Bowen

Distinguished Professor of Geography

Distinguished Professor of Geography Marshall Bowen, who earned his Ph.D. degree from Boston University, joined the faculty of Mary Washington College in 1965. In the ensuing years he taught more students than any other member of the faculty, and did so with an inimitably dynamic style, acknowledged by his receipt of the Grellet C. Simpson Award for outstanding teaching in 1987. He has also been a productive scholar: the author of a book, dozens of scholarly articles, and scores of professional papers. His exemplary contributions to the discipline of geography have resulted in his receiving a number of prestigious awards, including most recently the Ray A. Billington Award by the Western History Association and the Henry A. Douglas Award by the Pioneer Society of America.

Richard J. Krickus

Distinguished Professor of Political Science

Having earned his Ph.D. from Georgetown University in 1968, Distinguished Professor of Political Science Richard J. Krickus came to Mary Washington College in 1972. He taught a diverse array of courses including American Foreign Policy, Metropolitan problems, Nationalism, US National Security, and East-West Relations. A prolific scholar, he is a frequent contributor to prestigious American newspapers and is a regular columnist for Lithuania's leading daily, Lietuvos Rytas. In addition to writing numerous articles in professional journals, he is the author of several books, among them Pursuing the American Dream (1976), The Superpowers in Crisis (1987), and Showdown: The Lithuanian Rebellion and the Break-Up of the Soviet Empire (1997).

Bernard C. Lemoine
Professor of Music

By the time Bernard C. Lemoine joined the music department of Mary Washington College in 1965, he had studied at Oberlin College's Conservatory of Music and completed his master's degree in piano performance at the University of Illinois, where he also taught; he subsequently earned his Ph.D. degree in music theory from The Catholic University of America. As a classroom teacher of music theory, he focused mainly on the 18th and 19th centuries – the period of Bach, Beethoven, and Brahms. As a masterful studio teacher, he instilled in his devoted students his particular love for the Russian pianists, notably Rachmaninoff and Prokofiev. In recent years Professor Lemoine also taught larger classes of music appreciation, which he imbued with his own enthusiasm for music.

Robert U. MacDonald
Senior Associate Dean for Financial Aid

Senior Associate Dean for Financial Aid Robert U. MacDonald joined the staff of Mary Washington College in 1980. Under his enlightened and efficient direction, the College's financial aid programs expanded significantly owing largely to his effective implementation of innovative technology. His generous commitment of time in conducting hundreds of financial aid information workshops across the Commonwealth provided valuable assistance to countless numbers of college-bound students. His service, not just to Mary Washington College, but to the larger field of financial aid, has led to his being widely recognized as one of Virginia's leading financial aid administrators.

Nikola Nikolic
Professor of Physics

Professor of Physics Nikola Nikolic, a native of Belgrade, received his Ph.D. from Columbia University in 1962. Joining the Mary Washington College faculty in 1969, he regularly taught courses in general physics, astronomy, classical mechanics, electrodynamics, and thermodynamics, as well as occasional courses in nuclear physics and quantum mechanics. In addition to publishing numerous scholarly articles, he was an active participant in College governance, serving terms both as chair of the Department of Physics and Astronomy and as secretary of the faculty. An accomplished photographer, he has participated in exhibitions at the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts in Richmond and the Gallery of Modern Art in Fredericksburg.

Key Sun Ryang
Professor of History

Professor of History Key Sun Ryang, a native of Korea, joined the faculty of Mary Washington College in 1968 from Columbia University, where he received his Ph.D. degree. In the intervening years, he developed a national reputation as a scholar in 8th and 9th Century Chinese history, as well as in Korean history. In 1984 he established The Journal of Modern Korean Studies, which he continues to edit. Through his offering of a wide range of courses including the histories of China, Japan, Korea, and the Far East since 1945, and seminars on Shogun Japan and T'ang China, Dr. Ryang single-handedly created at the College a solid program in the area of Asian history.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

LYNN MUNROE BRAGG

INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION

Lynn Munroe Bragg, Mary Washington College Class of 1976, is a member of the United States International Trade Commission. Appointed to that agency by President William Clinton in 1994, she served as its chair from 1998 to 2000.

The ITC is an independent, nonpartisan, quasi-judicial federal agency whose purpose is to provide trade expertise to both the legislative and executive branches of government. It is also entrusted with determining the impact of imports on U.S. industries and with directing actions against unfair trade practices, such as patent, trademark, and copyright infringement.

Prior to her appointment, Commissioner Bragg held several positions in the corporate affairs department of the Potomac Electric Power Company in Washington, D.C., and served in a senior management position with the Edison Electric Institute. She also worked from 1981 to 1991 as a legislative assistant on the staff of former Senator Malcolm Wallop of Wyoming, focusing mainly on energy, tax, and trade issues.

In addition to her BA degree in English from Mary Washington College, she holds a master's degree from Boston University. During the spring 2001 semester, she served as Mary Washington College's Distinguished Graduate in Residence.

Commissioner Bragg and her husband, Ray Bragg, live in Chevy Chase, Maryland with their three children, Rachael, Braxton, and Hudson.

THE EAGLE PIPE BAND

Performing at today's commencement ceremony is the Eagle Pipe Band. The band was formed in 1997 with a small combination of Mary Washington College students and members of the Fredericksburg community. It has grown steadily each year, adding pipers, drummers, and dancers.

Of special interest, and great pride, the Eagle Pipe Band was founded by, and is under the direction of, Dr. Raymond B. Scott, Chairperson and Professor of Chemistry at Mary Washington College. The majority of the performers at today's ceremony are students at Mary Washington College. The tartan worn by performers was designed by the College to match the school colors, and is registered in Scotland's official registry of tartans.

ALMA MATER

All hail, dear Alma Mater,
We sing our praise to you.
High on Marye's Hilltop
You stand forever true;
Born in truth and honor
You ever more shall be,
The model of our future years
And all eternity.

Whene'er we have to leave you
We never will forget,
The lessons you have taught us,
And all the friends we've met;
And we your sons and daughters
Will hold your name on high,
So here's to Mary Washington;
Our love will never die.
